Description

Auto New York City CBD

Autoflowering phenotype of last generation New York City.

It's a genetics of easy cultivation focused on outdoor crops and with good results in time and production.

Its lemony flavour is less accented but more acidic than its feminized version.

It produces dense and compact buds that are covered in crystals.

In the exterior it can reach more than 75 cm in height.

Indoors, Auto New York City CBD can also give good yields with 18-hour cycles.
