Description

Cloud Walker (Punta Roja x Mendo Breath)

The Cloudwalker is a cross that we made with our selected pheno of the Punto Roja, which we found during our Strain Hunters expedition in Colombia in 2013. Punto Roja is a very famous landrace from Colombia, it's well known for its red colours, large amounts of resin and the extreme psychedelic high it produces.

We have crossed this amazing landrace, with our selection of Mendo Breath x Purple Punch from Inhouse Genetics, which shortens the flowering time as well as the plant size.

Cloudwalker is a new hybrid that combines original landrace genetics with a Mendocino flagship strain. The flavor profile ranges from tropical pineapple to sweet vanilla and caramel with earthy undertones, creating a very complex bouquet.

The plant grows tall and needs support, it will stretch and easily double or triple in size during flowering. The buds are compact and covered in resin and will express amazing coloration, especially during the end of flowering.

The effect is very uplifting at first, almost psychedelic due to the tropical landrace influences of the Punto Roja but will fade into a more body effect later on.

It's definitely a strain with a lot of potential for experienced growers and smokers.
