Description

Himalayan CBD

Himalayan CBD is a compact and quite discreet cannabis plant that develops to her full potential in warm and continental climates. Her flowering time is average, and harvest time will arrive before you know it. She develops a thick central cola surrounded by many other buds. Under the right growing conditions she will reward you with super abundant yields.

Himalayan CBD's aroma is bittersweet, with notes of exotic woods, and her taste is a delicious blend of sweet touches with more acidic, earthy and woody flavours.

Himalayan CBD's fast-acting effect translates into deep physical and mental relaxation.
