Description

Panama Regular

A Sativa dominant hybrid with strong, robust structure, easy to grow, flowering short, powerful and productive.

Panama develops spectacular large plants, with a strong, open structure, with a major distance between nodes, and with long, thin leaves. It thrives, producing large buds. It is a major producer of resin, and during flowering becomes reddish/purple. It is suitable for hot, dry areas.

Panama has lemon scent with notes of vanilla and incense, and its flavor is typical of Central American varieties. Initially produces a euphoric effect, followed by a powerful psychedelic rush.
