Royal Cookies

Royal Cookies brings the best of Californian genetics right here to Europe. Combining the finest Cookies genetics, she produces sweet and potent bud able to uplift the mind while relaxing the body. Also, thanks to her thoroughbred indica dominance, she is able to grow yields of up to 525g/m<sup>2</sup> after just 8-9 weeks of flowering.

A great mix of cookies

Royal Cookies is a royal treat. This top-shelf strain was created in an extremely rigorous and intensive breeding program involving some of California's best cookie strains. She is the result of mixing two exemplary Cookies Forum specimens, resulting in a Cookie strain so powerful it will bring a tear to even the Cookie Monster's eye! Royal Cookies is a cannabis strain well suited to both indoor and outdoor cultivation.

However, for her to really thrive outdoors, she needs to be grown in a warm climate. Thanks to her indica dominant genetics, Royal Cookies grows with a short stature, reaching heights between 80-110cm indoors. However, this doesn't impede her yielding potential, which sits at a generous 450-525g/m<sup>2</sup> after 8-9 weeks of flowering. Outdoors, Royal Cookies will climb to higher heights, growing between 140-180cm tall.

She is usually ready for harvest around the middle of October, yielding up to 450-500g per plant.

Very high on THC

The aroma and taste Royal Cookies produces stays true to the Cookies name, blending sweet and earthy tones into a pungent and tantalising flavour.

The delights of Royal Cookies go well beyond her flavour, though. She induces a potent high that both uplifts the mind into euphoria and gently lowers the body into deep relaxation. Her potency is such that novice smokers may want to approach with caution, as her 23% THC content can quickly and easily overwhelm the unprepared.

If you want large yields of sweet, potent bud that captures the very essence of Cali cannabis, Royal Cookies will not do you wrong!
