Féminisées Graines de Cannabis: Cataract Kush

Cataract Kush looks almost grey-black when cured. The flavor is LA dominate with the OG Kush coming thru in the exhale. The nugs look OG with LA density. This is the perfect combination of these two strains and the high is VERY strong! The effect is good for pain, eating and sleep disorders. Most describe Cataract as a "creeper" high that keeps on building long after you stop smoking! This strain has been years in the making and is NOT recommended for the light-weight smoker!! Above average yields and dense frosty nugs are easily achieved by the novice as well as seasoned growers. After you experience the Cataract Kush you'll think you have cataracts!!!
